25X1X6

14 July

1. The Communists have shipped large supplies of ammunition and equipment from Yen-chi (129-31, 42-55) to Chiao-ho (127-20, 43-43).

16 July

2. LU Chi-en commands the An-tung (124-23, 40-09) Peace Preservation Corps. This unit has a total strength of 5000 men, of which about one-third are Korean.

A July 1947 report of the New China News Agency (Communist) stated that LU Chi-en was the mayor of An-tung.

19 July

3. An unconfirmed statement by a prisoner is that the Communists have established a South Manchurian Military District with five sub-district headquarters at the following places: Kai-ping (122-22, 40-24), Feng-cheng (124-02, 40-28), Hsiu-yen (123-16, 40-16), Chuang-ho (123-03, 39-42), and An-tung. The commander is WU Jui-lin 吴瑞林.

30 July

4. On 12 July, the Communists shipped twenty-four carloads of military supplies to Chien-kuo-chi (124-47, 45-08). The shipment contained 24 Japanese artillery pieces, 200 light machine guns, 15 mortars, and a large quantity of rifles and ammunition.
